Campus Recruitment

Auditor
Internal Audit &
Corporate Security

As a cornerstone to enhancing CIBC's position in the market place, CIBC is focused on continuously improving our financial planning and analysis capabilities. This area provides an exciting challenge for business students to apply their analytical skills in identifying areas of opportunity for improving the performance of CIBC.

The CIBC Group of Companies, a recognized leader among the major Canadian and Global financial institutions, is operating in one of the most dynamic business environments in the world. Through intelligent growth, an emphasis on superior customer service and maintaining an open environment where the development of people is one of our highest priorities, we are ensuring we remain one of the leading North American financial services companies.

With the introduction of the Sarbanes-Oxley disclosure law, management and Audit Committees are focusing more attention on internal auditors. Internal Audit & Corporate Security (IACS) provides unique opportunities for people interested in a career in Financial Services. IACS performs independent and objective assessments of the adequacy and effectiveness of risk management techniques, internal controls and corporate security programs for all CIBC businesses around the world. We are a diverse team of professionals including chartered accountants, certified financial analysts, mathematicians, information technology specialists and a variety of other business professionals such as traders, investment managers, credit officers and police investigators. By joining IACS you will develop transferable skills essential to understanding governance and risk management in today's heightened regulatory environment.
