1.8 Year of the Sheep – 1/2 oz Silver

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

The year 2015 is ruled by the Sheep. The creative Sheep personality embodies wealth, warmth and loveliness. Good things seem to come to the Sheep naturally because of its irresistibly good nature. The Sheep rarely speaks its mind. It will go with the flow and only object when things aren't going its way. Push too hard and it will react—decisively! The gregarious Sheep is an eternal romantic. It adores being showered with love and attention.

The Year of the Sheep also ruled 1907, 1919, 1931, 1943, 1955, 1967, 1979, 1991 and 2003. However, people born in January or February should consult the Chinese lunar calendar. New Year does not automatically fall on January 1st. This celebration is better known as the Spring Festival and coincides with the first day of spring—a date that shifts from year to year depending upon the lunar cycle and solar year.

The perfect gift for someone born in the Year of the Sheep! Order yours today!

1.9 Year of the Horse – 1/2 oz Silver Coin 2014

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

The year 2014 is ruled by the Horse. The Horse personality embodies life, liberty and happiness. The Horse will always saunter in with an ingenious and practical solution—and often charge ahead before the rest of the group can catch up. The Horse can be impatient, but he's also forgiving and kind. The Year of the Horse also ruled 1906, 1918, 1930, 1942, 1954, 1966, 1978, 1990 and 2002. However, people born in January or February should consult the Chinese lunar calendar. New Year does not automatically fall on January 1st. This celebration is better known as the Spring Festival and coincides with the first day of spring—a date that shifts from year to year depending upon the lunar cycle and solar year.

1.10 Year of the Rooster – 1/2 oz Silver

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

According to the Chinese zodiac, the year 2017 is ruled by the Rooster. The Rooster loves to be the centre of attention; witty and self-assured, he or she can talk about anything! A natural performer, he or she does amazingly well in any career that puts him or her in the public eye. The Rooster is astute, organized and decisive—put him or her in charge, and your life and finances will run like clockwork! This pure silver coin commemorates 2017 as the Lunar Year of the Rooster, and celebrates all who are born under its sign.

If you know someone born in the year 1909, 1921, 1933, 1945, 1957, 1969, 1981, 1993, 2005, or newborns in 2017, then this is a gift they will treasure forever! Order your coin today!

1.11 Looney Tunes – Tweety Bird

Front Side:

Description

Despite his small size and seemingly innocent expression, Tweety has a strong sense of self-preservation that prevents Sylvester the Cat from making an easy meal out of him.

Appearing together in more than 40 cartoons from the classic series, their endless antics have made them one of animation's most successful duos, and two of the most popular Looney Tunes characters.

1.13 FIFA Women's World Cup: Heading the Ball

Packaging:

Front Side:

Description

From June 6 to July 5, 2015, the best female soccer teams in the world will be playing across the nation in Edmonton, Moncton, Montréal, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver as Canada hosts the FIFA Women's World Cup™/MC. It's the premier championship in the game of soccer that's held every four years by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association.

It's all in your head. "Heading" is one of soccer's most distinctive moves. It's critical for intercepting the ball or changing its trajectory midair in order to gain control of the play. Deflecting a soaring soccer ball with your head is not for the faint of heart. It's a physically demanding skill that requires power and perfect technique.

1.14 FIFA Women's World Cup: Celebration

Packaging:

Front Side:

Description

From June 6 to July 5, 2015, the best female soccer teams in the world will be playing across the nation in Edmonton, Moncton, Montréal, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver as Canada hosts the FIFA Women's World Cup™/MC. It's the premier championship in the game of soccer that's held every four years by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association.

It's that super-charged moment when the team executes the perfect play—and SCORES! Players, coaches, managers—and cheering fans in the stands—erupt with joy as they jump to their feet with shouts and screams, and energized high-fives. From June 6 to July 5th 2015, Edmonton, Moncton, Montréal, Ottawa, and Winnipeg will welcome the world to FIFA Women's World Cup™/MC with the tournament's grand finale gripping the city of Vancouver.

Canadian artist Greg Banning has created an energizing design of a female soccer player running with her arms outstretched holding a Canadian flag. Her facial expression is one of pure elation as she screams with the thrill of the goal. The maple leaf in the background salutes Canada as host country for FIFA Women's World Cup 2015™/MC, and is bursting with pride and great expectations for Team Canada—as the team experiences every athlete's dream of playing (and winning!) before a home crowd.

1.15 FIFA Women's World Cup: The Goalie

Packaging:

Front Side:

Description

From June 6 to July 5, 2015, the best female soccer teams in the world will be playing across the nation in Edmonton, Moncton, Montréal, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver as Canada hosts the FIFA Women's World Cup™/MC. It's the premier championship in the game of soccer that's held every four years by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association.

Goalkeeping is key. Whether you're a player or a spectator, you know this position is critical for any team seeking victory. Despite the strongest defensive players that keep the ball away from their net, every goalkeeper must be ever ready to react with lightning speed.

1.16 FIFA Women's World Cup: The Kicker

Packaging:

Front Side:

Description

From June 6 to July 5, 2015, the best female soccer teams in the world will be playing across the nation in Edmonton, Moncton, Montréal, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver as Canada hosts the FIFA Women's World Cup™/MC. It's the premier championship in the game of soccer that's held every four years by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association.

Athletes and spectators alike know the power and accuracy of a player's kick is critical if the team is going to send the ball into the opposing team's net. It's a goal that cannot be achieved without teamwork; super-fast reflexes as each player reads the situation with split-second timing and sends the ball to a more strategically placed player.

Description

From June 6 to July 5, 2015, the best female soccer teams in the world will be playing across the nation in Edmonton, Moncton, Montréal, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver as Canada hosts the FIFA Women's World Cup™/MC. It's the premier championship in the game of soccer that's held every four years by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association.

Passion, pride and excitement will explode from coast to coast to coast as Canada welcomes the world to FIFA Women's World Cup 2015™/MC. It's soccer's premier championship that's held every four years by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association (FIFA) and will be played out in Edmonton, Moncton, Montréal, Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver June 6 to July 5.

Canadian artist Greg Banning has created a super-charged scene of players running onto the pitch with fans cheering in the background from the stands. The players' passion, focus and determination are evident in the fine detailing of the engraving while colour has been selectively applied to the background to capture the international character of the tournament. Colours from the world over can be seen in the stands with punctuations of red to salute Canada as host nation and to cheer its home team.

1.26 Colourful Songbirds of Canada

Front Side:

Description

Smaller than a crow but larger than a robin, the blue jay (Cyanocitta cristata) is instantly recognised by birdwatchers young and old thanks to its near—exotic, blue—hued plumage. And given the jay’s loud cry, its scientific name—which means “crested, blue chattering bird”—seems particularly fitting! This intelligent bird is one of Canada’s most beloved songbirds, and its beauty is forever immortalised in this stunning coin.

1.27 Songbirds of Canada

Front Side:

Description

Despite its small size, the magnolia warbler (Setophaga magnolia) is easy to spot thanks to its bold black—and—yellow colouring. This little songbird sings almost constantly, filling the summer air with a series of clear, sweet whistles as it flits along the lower branches of the surrounding trees. Unless protecting its young, the warbler hardly seems shy; it is often seen spreading and flicking its tail feathers in a proud display of its colours, which have been beautifully recreated on this stunning coin!

1.39 Colored Year of the Sheep

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

The year 2015 is ruled by the Sheep. The creative Sheep personality embodies wealth, warmth and loveliness. Good things seem to come to the Sheep naturally because of its irresistibly good nature. The Sheep rarely speaks its mind. It will go with the flow and only object when things aren't going its way. Push too hard and it will react—decisively! The gregarious Sheep is an eternal romantic. It adores being showered with love and attention.

The Year of the Sheep also ruled 1907, 1919, 1931, 1943, 1955, 1967, 1979, 1991 and 2003. However, people born in January or February should consult the Chinese lunar calendar. New Year does not automatically fall on January 1st. This celebration is better known as the Spring Festival and coincides with the first day of spring—a date that shifts from year to year depending upon the lunar cycle and solar year.

1.41 Silver Coin – Maple of Prosperity

Packaging:

Back Side:

Description

Symbolism is an inherent part of Chinese culture, both in the written and spoken language. While many of its modern characters serve as visual symbols of their own, the playful use of phonetics and puns bring added meaning and imagery to each message conveyed; such is the case with this intricate coin, which conveys a blessing of prosperity upon its owner.

Along with luck and longevity, traditional Chinese beliefs hold that prosperity is one of life's greatest blessings and a cornerstone for the ideal life. This design artfully brings together detailed visual symbols and popular wordplay in an expressed wish for "abundance."

Fish have long represented "abundance" or "surplus" due to their similarly pronounced characters; and as a prolific producer of eggs, the carp is a particularly auspicious symbol with its character's pronunciation resembling that of "profit" and "power." In a lucky grouping of three, carp are beautifully depicted on your coin's reverse as they jump out of the water (in itself symbolic of continuous abundance), which is represented by a repetitive pattern of rippling water that frames the reverse image. This thoughtful, intricate design by Canadian artist Albert Ng expresses the notion of "gaining profits in succession" and also features a beautiful hologram of a maple leaf that celebrates Canada's Chinese communities.

1.42 Year of the Horse 1 oz Silver Coin 2014

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

The year 2014 is ruled by the Horse. The Horse personality embodies life, liberty and happiness. He's amazingly agile, physically and mentally; a master problem-solver. The horse will often saunter in with an ingenious and practical solution—and often charge ahead before the rest of the group can catch up. The Horse can be impatient, but he's also forgiving and kind.

The Year of the Horse also ruled 1906, 1918, 1930, 1942, 1954, 1966, 1978, 1990 and 2002. However, people born in January or February should consult the Chinese lunar calendar. 1.45 Year of the Monkey – 1 oz Silver – NZ Mint

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

2016 is the Lunar Year of the Monkey and this coin is the first of two beautiful 1 oz Silver Coins to be released by New Zealand Mint. Those born in the Year of the Monkey are highly intelligent, have a positive sense of humour and a magnetic personality, which leads to them being prosperous individuals.

This Lunar Silver Engraved 1 oz Silver Coin features a Monkey's face engraved in fine relief. This is set against a polished, proof quality background and inscribed with characteristics of the Monkey - those of prosperity, happiness and intelligence.

The Lunar - 2016 Year of the Monkey, 1 oz Silver coin comes packaged in high quality contemporary style Perspex inner case and stylish outer packaging, making this an ideal gift for those born in the Year of the Monkey and Lunar coin collectors.

Those born in the Year of the Monkey are highly intelligent, have a positive sense of humour, and a magnetic personality which leads to them being prosperous individuals.

Always sociable, Monkeys are often seen 'swinging' from one group of friends to another, attracting a social following due to their charm and energy. Continually upbeat, they are often considered celebrities in their own circles thanks to their humour and sharp minds.

Romantically, those born during the Year of the Monkey make attractive and passionate lovers, due to their cheerfulness and wit. Monkeys are also great listeners and handle complicated situations or problems with ease, due to their natural intelligence and thirst for knowledge. This is emphasised in a career sense, where they can prosperously adapt to a variety of work environments. Skilled at problem solving, the Monkey is ambitious for success, which is usually granted due to their remarkable intelligence.

1.46 Silver Dollar Proof Set – First World War

Description

A wave of patriotism and enthusiasm greeted the news in Canada, where many believed the war would be a short and glorious campaign. While pre-war Canada had a sizeable militia, it had a small standing army of only 3,110 men. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia and Defence, moved quickly to mobilise and equip Canada's military contribution to the world stage.

Across the Dominion, men of different backgrounds flocked to recruiting stations. Many were recent British immigrants or native-born Canadians of British stock, but there were also more than 1,000 French Canadians, many members of the First Nations, along with non-British immigrants and black Canadians.

Within two months of the onset of war, 33,000 Canadian volunteers were in training at the newly constructed Valcartier camp near Quebec City. These men formed the First Contingent of the Canadian Expeditionary Force (CEF), which became the largest single movement of Canadians when they - along with 7,000 horses - set sail for Britain in October. Also accompanying them on this voyage were the "Blue Puttees," a contingent of 500 soldiers from Newfoundland and Labrador, which was a separate British colony before it joined Canada in 1949. These fathers, husbands, sons and brothers formed the first wave of Canadian troops that would engage in this world conflict.

By 1916, Canada was able to field an army corps of four divisions at the front. Eventually commanded by a Canadian, Lieutenant-General Sir Arthur Currie, the Canadian Corps won laurels on the Somme and at Vimy Ridge, Hill 70, Passchendaele, and the battles that took place in the decisive last hundred days of the war. Women also played a key role, with 2,504 Nursing Sisters serving overseas as part of the Canadian Army Medical Corps. Together, their exemplary courage and the contributions made on the battlefields helped Canada come of age as a nation.

The Proof Silver Dollar Coin

Designed by Canadian artist Bonnie Ross, your proof silver dollar depicts a couple's emotional farewell at a train station, where the first wave of volunteers is boarding a train bound for the Valcartier camp. Time stands still for this couple as they savour one last embrace before his departure, both of them uncertain of the future that lies ahead. It is a poignant reminder of the sacrifices made by those who answered the call of duty, and their loved ones who remained on the home front.

1.47 Superman Comic Book Covers #1

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

The reverse image recreates the 2011 cover of Action Comics #1, and features Superman as he runs from the authorities through the streets of Metropolis. The original artwork introduced a more modern take on a young Superman; wearing denim jeans and boots, Superman still maintains elements from his traditional costume with a blue shirt, red cape and the iconic 'S' shield emblazoned across his chest. Vibrant colour enhances the engraved portrait of Superman, even adding a red glow to the streaks caused by bullets that do little to slow him down. A series of concentric circles frame the reverse, adding depth to the overall design and creating the illusion that Superman is racing out from the coin at breakneck speed towards the viewer.

1.48 Superman Comic Book Covers #28

Front Side:

Back Side:

Description

As seen on the cover of Superman #28 (2014), the reverse image features Superman in his Kryptonian battle armour, lifting the title of his comic book with the help of his heat vision and super strength. Dust and debris fall from the SUPERMAN title, as our superhero's red-coloured cape billows in the wind. The reverse image's detailed engraving is enhanced by the application of vibrant colour, all of which are framed within a series of concentric circles that add depth to the design and create the illusion that Superman is poised to leap out of the coin.

1.51 Cosmology: Austrian Mint

Front Side:

Description

This year's highly anticipated bimetallic niobium and silver coin from the Austrian Mint features "Cosmology". It fittingly illuminates the new year with two colours: blue and gold. Cosmology connects all the parts of the universe as a whole, and follows the evolution of it from beginning to end. The blue and gold colours of the Cosmology coin are not the result of colours applied to the coin but rather the refraction of light on an extremely thin, transparent oxide layer.

The reverse of the coin features the "European Extremely Large Telescope" or E-ELT that is scheduled for completion in 2022. This will be the largest telescope ever, anywhere in the world, and will feature a 39 metre, or almost 130 foot mirror at its base. It will be four times larger than any telescope currently in use. The details of the telescope on the coin overlap from the outer silver ring into the blue niobium core. Some of the planets known to us such as Jupiter are detailed in the design. The European side of earth is also detailed on the coin.

The obverse illustrates the all-encompassing field of cosmology, i.e. the whole galaxy: planets, stars, satellites, deep space and everything therein. This side of the coin also bears the country of issue "Republik Oesterreich" Republic of Austria, the face value of 25 euros and the year of issue 2015.

Both sides of this coin were designed and engraved by Mint engraver Helmut Andexlinger.

This new two-coloured coin is minted to a maximum of 65,000 pieces in Special Uncirculated quality only. The coin contains 9 grams of 900 Fine Silver in its outer ring and 6.5 grams of 998 pure niobium, and has a total diameter of 34 mm. Each piece is encapsulated, boxed and comes complete with a numbered certificate guaranteeing its authenticity.
