Business Highlights and Performance

Canadian Personal and Small Business Banking

Canadian Personal and Small Business Banking reported net income of $639 million for the third quarter, up $78 million or 14% from the third quarter a year ago. Excluding items of note, adjusted net income⁽¹⁾ was $643 million, up $81 million or 14% from the third quarter a year ago as wider spreads, volume growth and higher fees were partially offset by higher non-interest expenses.

Canadian Commercial Banking & Wealth Management

 Canadian Commercial Banking and Wealth Management reported net income of $350 million for the third quarter, up $59 million or 20% from the third quarter a year ago, primarily driven by higher revenue. The increase in revenue was driven mainly by deposit and lending growth, higher fees and wider spreads in commercial banking, and higher client assets in wealth management.

U.S. Commercial Banking & Wealth Management

U.S. Commercial Banking and Wealth Management reported net income of $162 million for the third quarter, up $121 million or 295% from the third quarter a year ago. Excluding items of note, adjusted net income³ was $171 million, up $126 million or 280% from the third quarter a year ago, primarily due to the inclusion of the results of CIBC Bank USA for the full quarter. The same quarter last year only included the results of CIBC Bank USA following the acquisition on June 23, 2017.

Capital Markets

Capital Markets reported net income of $265 million for the third quarter, up $13 million or 5% from the third quarter a year ago. Strong revenue growth was driven by our equity derivatives, foreign exchange, and interest rate trading businesses, as well as higher advisory and corporate banking revenue, partially offset by a gain on the sale of an investment included in the same quarter last year. Non-interest expenses were higher primarily due to higher performance-based compensation and spending on strategic initiatives.
