Strategy overview

Invests in equity securities of companies of all market capitalizations across eligible developed markets outside North America. The fund selects companies based on value and profitability characteristics, using a broad set of company financial fundamentals such as book value, earnings, and cash flow, together with current market prices. May provide potential diversification benefits to portfolios with meaningful allocations to Canadian and US equity markets.

Why CADE?

Designed for investors seeking international equity exposure beyond North America.

Expand beyond North America

Invests in companies in developed markets across Europe, Asia, and other regions outside Canada and the US.

Focus on attractive prices relative to fundamentals

Pursues outperformance over market benchmarks by targeting securities believed to be trading at lower valuations and with higher profitability ratios.

Balance your global portfolio

Complements Canadian and US holdings by adding international diversification and helping to reduce home country bias.

What this adds to your portfolio

- Invests in companies across developed international economies.
- Helps balance your portfolio by spreading exposure across regions.
- Reduces reliance on North American market.
