When your coverage begins

If your credit limit is $150,000 or less, your coverage begins on the later of the day your CIBC PLC is approved or when CIBC receives your signed and completed application. You do not have to answer health questions.

If your credit limit is greater than $150,000, your coverage up to $150,000 begins on the later of the day your CIBC PLC is approved or when CIBC receives your signed and completed application. Coverage for amounts in excess of $150,000 will require you to answer health questions, and, if approved, your coverage will begin on the day that Canada Life notifies you in writing of such approval. If Canada Life declines your application for coverage for amounts in excess of $150,000, your insurance coverage for the PLC balance of $150,000 or less will remain in force. See the Certificate of Insurance for complete details.

Health questions

If you apply for coverage for amounts in excess of $150,000, Canada Life collects and uses your health information to determine if you are eligible for insurance on your PLC in excess of $150,000. It's important that your answers to the health questions, and any other questions asked by Canada Life, be truthful, accurate and complete. In the event you (or your estate) submit a claim, Canada Life may review your answers to these questions. Your insurance may be void if you conceal, misrepresent or make any false or incomplete answer or declarations on your application or to any subsequent request for information in connection with your application.

You have 30 days from receipt of your Certificate of Insurance to review the coverage and decide if it meets your needs. If you cancel within the 30 day review period, you'll receive a full refund of any premiums you paid.
