Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

CIBC Canadian Government Long-Term Bond ETF's (the CIBC ETF) portfolio advisor is CIBC Asset Management Inc. (CAMI or the Portfolio Advisor). The commentary that follows provides a summary of the results of operations for the six-month period ended June 30, 2025. All dollar figures are expressed in thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

Since the CIBC ETF's inception on May 14, 2025 the net asset value increased to $1,977 as at June 30, 2025.

The Government of Canada (GoC) bond yield curve steepened (when the difference between long-term and short-term interest rates is increasing) during the period. The Bank of Canada continued to cut interest rates, and longer-term yields moved higher amid fears of rising government deficits, which implied increased debt supply.

Riskier assets sold off as the U.S. administration threatened to impose aggressive trade tariffs on its major trade partners. Tariff threats on Canada, Mexico and China early in the first quarter of 2025 led to a sharp market decline. Government yields initially fell, then climbed as investors recalibrated inflation expectations. Corporate spreads (the yield differential on corporate bonds versus government bonds of similar maturities) initially widened as risk premiums rose.

In the first half of 2025, the U.S. Federal Reserve Board held the federal funds rate at 4.25%–4.5%, retaining a cautious stance. U.S. treasury yields stayed elevated and volatile as markets contested the timing of interest rate cuts.

In mid-April, the U.S. administration announced a 90-day tariff pause, along with several major tariff rate reductions and exemptions, which eased market fears and enabled riskier assets to outperform. Corporate earnings results were also strong, while the U.S. labour market remained solid. These factors supported risk sentiment, and the market was able to digest corporate and provincial issuance well.

The CIBC ETF benefited from an overweight allocation to provincial bonds as economic resilience boosted investor risk appetite. A relatively short duration (sensitivity to interest rates) and yield curve positioning contributed to performance in an environment of higher interest rates. Overweight holdings in Province of British Columbia (4.25%, 2053/12/18) and Hydro-Quebec (4.00%, 2063/02/15) contributed to performance. Both bonds had an attractive yield pick-up relative to GoC bonds.

Overweight holdings in GoC (3.50%, 2057/12/01 and 4.00%, 2041/06/01) detracted from the CIBC ETF's performance. Both bonds were negatively affected by a steepening of the yield curve.

The Portfolio Advisor increased an existing holding in Hydro-Quebec (4.00%, 2063/02/15) for its attractive yield and to reduce the CIBC ETF's underweight allocation to long-term bonds. A holding in Canada Housing Trust No. 1 (3.45%, 2035/03/15) was eliminated from the CIBC ETF as a result of index reconstitution early in June, which triggered a need to rebalance the CIBC ETF's portfolio and extend duration.

Recent Developments

The level of geopolitical risk disrupted the global economy and financial markets in unprecedented and unpredictable ways. Threatened and actual impositions of tariffs and other trade-related actions by the U.S., China and other global actors, and any counter-tariff and non-tariff retaliatory measures by Canada, Europe and others, may have further negative impacts on the Canadian and global economy, and on financial markets. These events could exacerbate other preexisting political, social and economic risks and cause substantial market volatility and uncertainty in financial markets. It is unclear what further actions may be taken by governments and the resulting impact on global economies, businesses and financial markets. These factors may adversely affect the CIBC ETF's performance. The Manager continues to monitor ongoing developments and the impact to investment strategies.

Related Party Transactions

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and its affiliates have the following roles and responsibilities with respect to the CIBC ETF, and receive the fees described below in connection with their roles and responsibilities.

Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor of the CIBC ETF

CAMI, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, is the CIBC ETF's Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor. CAMI receives management fees with respect to the CIBC ETF's day-to-day business and operations, calculated based on the net asset value of units of the CIBC ETF as described in Management Fees section. As Trustee, CAMI holds title to the CIBC ETF's property (cash and securities) on behalf of its unitholders. As Portfolio Advisor, CAMI provides, or arranges to provide for, investment advice and portfolio management services to the CIBC ETF. CAMI also compensates dealers in connection with their marketing activities regarding the CIBC ETF. From time to time, CAMI may invest in units of the CIBC ETF.

Designated Broker and Dealer

CAMI has entered into an agreement with CIBC World Markets Inc. (CIBC WM), an affiliate of CAMI, to act as designated broker and dealer for distribution of the CIBC ETF, on terms and conditions that are comparable to arm's length agreements in the exchange traded funds industry.

Brokerage Arrangements and Soft Dollars

The Portfolio Advisor makes decisions, including the selection of markets and dealers and the negotiation of commissions, with respect to the purchase and sale of portfolio securities, certain derivative products and the execution of portfolio transactions. Brokerage business may be allocated by the Portfolio Advisor to CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., each a subsidiary of CIBC. CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp. may also earn spreads on the sale of fixed income and other securities, and certain derivative products to the CIBC ETF. A spread is the difference between the bid and ask prices for a security in the applicable marketplace, with respect to the execution of portfolio transactions. The spread will differ based upon various factors such as the nature and liquidity of the security.

Dealers, including CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., may furnish goods and services, other than order execution, to the Portfolio Advisor when they process trades through them (referred to in the industry as "soft-dollar" arrangements). These goods and services are paid for with a portion of the brokerage commissions and assist the Portfolio Advisor with investment decision-making services for the CIBC ETF or relate directly to the execution of portfolio transactions on behalf of the CIBC ETF. Any soft dollar arrangements shall be in compliance with applicable laws.

During the period, the CIBC ETF did not pay any brokerage commissions or other fees to CIBC WM or CIBC World Markets Corp. Spreads associated with fixed income and other securities are not ascertainable and, for that reason, cannot be included when determining these amounts.

The IRC is required to advise the Canadian securities regulatory authorities, after a matter has been referred or reported to the IRC by the Manager, if it determines that an investment decision was not made in accordance with a condition imposed by securities legislation or the IRC in any Related Party Transactions requiring its approval.

Custodian

<sup>a</sup> Information presented is for the period from the inception date to December 31.

<sup>5</sup> Management expense ratio is based on the total expenses of the CIBC ETF (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs), incurred by or allocated to a series of units for the period shown, expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value of that series during the period.

The decision to waive management fees is at the discretion of the Manager. The practice of waiving management fees may continue indefinitely or may be terminated at any time without notice to unitholders. The management expense ratio before waivers or absorptions includes the fees attributable to Investment Funds, where applicable.

<sup>7</sup> The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs before income taxes expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. Spreads associated with fixed income securities trading are not ascertainable and, for that reason, are not included in the trading expense ratio calculation. The trading expense ratio includes the fees attributable to exchange traded funds, where applicable.

<sup>8</sup> The portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the portfolio advisor and/or portfolio sub-advisor manages the portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the CIBC ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the CIBC ETF in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the CIBC ETF.

Management Fees

The CIBC ETF pays CAMI an annual management fee to cover the costs of managing the CIBC ETF. Management fees are based on the CIBC ETF's net asset value and are calculated daily and paid monthly. Management fees are paid to CAMI in consideration for providing, or arranging for the provision of, management, distribution, and portfolio advisory services. Advertising and promotional expenses, and office overhead expenses related to the Manager's activities and the fees of the Portfolio Advisor are paid by CAMI out of the management fees received from the CIBC ETFs. The CIBC ETF is required to pay applicable taxes on the management fees paid to CAMI. Refer to the CIBC ETF's prospectus for the annual management fee rate.

For the period ended June 30, 2025, 100% of the management fees collected from the CIBC ETF was attributable to general administration and investment advice.
