Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

CIBC Canadian High Dividend Covered Call ETF's (the CIBC ETF) portfolio advisor is CIBC Asset Management Inc. (CAMI or the Portfolio Advisor). The commentary that follows provides a summary of the results of operations for the six-month period ended June 30, 2026. All dollar figures are expressed in thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

The CIBC ETF's net asset value increased by 164% during the period, from $8,580 as at December 31, 2025 to $22,655 as at June 30, 2026. Net sales of $12,598 and positive investment performance resulted in an overall increase in net asset value.

Record artificial intelligence (AI) capital spending continued to drive market returns during the period, benefiting memory and storage providers and cyclical stocks. The conflict in the Middle East and closure of the Strait of Hormuz drove a spike in oil prices, fueling inflation concerns. New U.S. Federal Reserve Board Chair Kevin Warsh signalled a more aggressive stance, with core inflation near 3% and all-in inflation at 4.2%. Expectations for interest-rate increases stalled the gold rally, strengthened the U.S. dollar and created uncertainty around the path of interest rates in both the U.S. and Canada. A wave of landmark equity issuances, including the record initial public offering by Space Exploration Technologies Corp., reflected strong investor appetite but introduced near-term consolidation pressure as markets digested large capital raises.

A significant overweight in energy contributed to the CIBC ETF's performance, driven by both stock selection and sector allocation. Oil prices surged as high as approximately $110 USD per barrel in April, benefiting energy companies through incremental free cash flow generation and supporting increased buyback activity and de-leveraging. An overweight in financials contributed to performance, driven primarily by stock selection, as the CIBC ETF's overweight in Bank of Montreal outperformed on strong fundamentals and a rebound in U.S. loan growth. An overweight in communications services contributed to performance, driven by stock selection as Quebecor Inc. continued its strong performance underpinned by subscriber growth.

Keyera Corp. also contributed to the CIBC ETF's performance as the company executed on growth opportunities including the Plains acquisition and the acquisition of the remaining 50% interest in the KAPS pipeline, both of which support a peer-leading growth outlook despite a discounted valuation.

Underweight positions in the materials, consumer discretionary and industrials sectors detracted from the CIBC ETF's performance as a result of security selection.

An underweight in Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce also detracted from the CIBC ETF's performance, as strong fundamentals supported share price performance. An underweight in National Bank of Canada detracted from performance, as the bank delivered strong earnings results. An overweight in WSP Global Inc. also detracted from performance, as the engineering and consulting firm faced challenges from slowing project activity and concerns related to AI disintermediation.

The Portfolio Advisor added new holdings in Canadian National Railway Co. given attractive relative valuation and expectations for a recovery in operating metrics. Allied Properties Real Estate Investment Trust was added given momentum in office leasing, balance sheet de-leveraging and progress on non-core asset sales. Gildan Activewear Inc. was added given attractive valuation, market share and benefits from the Hanes acquisition and integration. Great-West Lifeco Inc. was added given its defensive life insurance business, high return on equity, strong dividend yield and reasonable valuation, further supported by elevated valuations and expectations for decelerating earnings-per-share growth at Canadian banks. The Descartes Systems Group Inc. was added given increasing complexity and uncertainty within the global freight environment, from which the company is a beneficiary, and further supported by an attractive valuation, a clean balance sheet, strong cash position and solid mergers-and-acquisitions track record.

The Portfolio Advisor increased holdings in Enbridge Inc., Keyera Corp. and TC Energy Corp., reallocating energy exposure to midstream assets following the surge in oil prices from the Middle East conflict. Holdings in Barrick Mining Corp., Algonquin Power & Utilities Corp., Allied Properties Real Estate Investment Trust, Brookfield Asset Management Ltd. and Granite Real Estate Investment Trust were increased to rebalance risk weights toward higher conviction names with strong yield profiles.

The Portfolio Advisor eliminated a holding in Element Fleet Management Corp. given lower confidence in the growth outlook. Canadian Pacific Kansas City Ltd. was eliminated given premium relative valuation, slowing volume growth and near-term uncertainty from U.S. rail merger activity. George Weston Ltd. was eliminated to fund the new holding in Gildan Activewear Inc.

The Portfolio Advisor trimmed holdings in Royal Bank of Canada to fund the purchase of Allied Properties Real Estate Investment Trust. TELUS Corp. was trimmed given muted growth expectations for Canadian telecom. Canadian Natural Resources Ltd. and Suncor Energy Inc. were trimmed to moderately reduce energy exposure following surging oil prices.

The model-based covered call option strategy detracted from performance during the reporting period, as the underlying portfolio delivered gains well above historical averages.

Recent Developments

Effective April 27, 2026, Barry Pollock was appointed Chair of the Independent Review Committee (IRC), and Ursula Holmsten was appointed as a member of the IRC, succeeding Marcia Lewis Brown who retired from the Committee.

Geopolitical risks disrupted the global economy and financial markets in unprecedented and unpredictable ways. The tariffs imposed by the U.S., and the subsequent counter-measures implemented by various countries, may continue to negatively impact supply chains, inflation and economic activity. These actions are likely to amplify ongoing U.S., Canada, and Mexico trade issues that existed prior to recent tariff developments, and may have further adverse effects on both the Canadian and global economies, as well as financial markets. These events could exacerbate other preexisting political, social and economic risks and cause substantial market volatility and uncertainty in financial markets. The future actions of governments and their potential effects on global economies, businesses, and financial markets remain uncertain. These factors may adversely affect the CIBC ETF's performance. The Manager continues to monitor ongoing developments and the impact to investment strategies.

Related Party Transactions

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and its affiliates have the following roles and responsibilities with respect to the CIBC ETF, and receive the fees described below in connection with their roles and responsibilities.

Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor of the CIBC ETF

CAMI, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, is the CIBC ETF's Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor. CAMI receives management fees with respect to the CIBC ETF's day-to-day business and operations, calculated based on the net asset value of units of the CIBC ETF as described in Management Fees section. As Trustee, CAMI holds title to the CIBC ETF's property (cash and securities) on behalf of its unitholders. As Portfolio Advisor, CAMI provides, or arranges to provide for, investment advice and portfolio management services to the CIBC ETF. CAMI also compensates dealers in connection with their marketing activities regarding the CIBC ETF. From time to time, CAMI may invest in units of the CIBC ETF.

Designated Broker and Dealer

CAMI has entered into an agreement with CIBC World Markets Inc. (CIBC WM), an affiliate of CAMI, to act as designated broker and dealer for distribution of the CIBC ETF, on terms and conditions that are comparable to arm's length agreements in the exchange traded funds industry.

Brokerage Arrangements and Soft Dollars

The Portfolio Advisor makes decisions, including the selection of markets and dealers and the negotiation of commissions, with respect to the purchase and sale of portfolio securities, certain derivative products and the execution of portfolio transactions. Brokerage business may be allocated by the Portfolio Advisor to CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., each a subsidiary of CIBC. CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp. may also earn spreads on the sale of fixed income and other securities, and certain derivative products to the CIBC ETF. A spread is the difference between the bid and ask prices for a security in the applicable marketplace, with respect to the execution of portfolio transactions. The spread will differ based upon various factors such as the nature and liquidity of the security.

Dealers, including CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., may furnish goods and services, other than order execution, to the Portfolio Advisor when they process trades through them (referred to in the industry as "soft-dollar" arrangements). These goods and services are paid for with a portion of the brokerage commissions and assist the Portfolio Advisor with investment decision-making services for the CIBC ETF or relate directly to the execution of portfolio transactions on behalf of the CIBC ETF. Any soft dollar arrangements shall be in compliance with applicable laws.

During the period, the CIBC ETF paid brokerage commissions and other fees of $1,548 to CIBC WM; the CIBC ETF did not pay any brokerage commissions or other fees to CIBC World Markets Corp. Spreads associated with fixed income and other securities are not ascertainable and, for that reason, cannot be included when determining these amounts.

CIBC ETF Transactions

The CIBC ETF may enter into one or more of the following transactions (the Related Party Transactions) in reliance on the standing instructions issued by the Independent Review Committee (the IRC):

- to invest in or hold equity securities of CIBC or issuers related to the Portfolio Advisor;
- to invest in or hold non-exchange-traded debt securities of CIBC or an issuer related to CIBC in a primary offering and in the secondary market;
- purchase securities, including debt securities issued by an issuer that is not a reporting issuer in any of the provinces and territories of Canada, for which CIBC World Markets Inc., CIBC World Markets Corp., or any affiliate of CIBC (a "Related Dealer" or the "Related Dealers") acts as an underwriter during the offering of such securities, or at any time during the 60-day period following the completion of the offering of such securities in accordance with certain conditions;

- to purchase equity and debt securities from, or sell them to, a Related Dealer, where it is acting as principal;
- undertake currency and currency derivative transactions where a Related Dealer is the counterparty;
- to purchase securities from, or sell securities to, another investment fund or a managed account managed by the Manager or an affiliate (the inter-fund trades or cross-trades), subject to certain conditions; and
- to engage in in-specie transfers by receiving portfolio securities from, or delivering portfolio securities to, a managed account or another investment fund managed by the Manager or an affiliate in respect of a purchase or redemption of Units of the CIBC ETF, subject to certain conditions.

At least annually, the IRC reviews the Related Party Transactions for which they have issued standing instructions. The IRC is required to advise the Canadian securities regulatory authorities, after a matter has been referred or reported to the IRC by the Manager, if it determines that an investment decision was not made in accordance with a condition imposed by securities legislation or the IRC in any Related Party Transactions requiring its approval.

Custodian

CIBC Mellon Trust Company is the custodian of the CIBC ETF (the Custodian). The Custodian holds cash, securities, and other assets of the CIBC ETF and ensures that those assets are kept separate from any other cash, securities, or other assets that the custodian might be holding. The Custodian also provides other services to the CIBC ETF including record-keeping and processing of foreign exchange transactions. The fees and spreads for the services of the Custodian are paid by the Manager. CIBC owns a 50% interest in the Custodian.

Service Provider

The Custodian also provides certain services to the CIBC ETF, including securities lending, fund accounting and reporting, and portfolio valuation. Such servicing fees are paid by the Manager. Where applicable, securities lending fees are applied against the revenue received by the CIBC ETF.

^a Information presented is for the period from the inception date to December 31.

^b Initial offering price.

* Ratio has been annualized.

¹ This information is derived from the CIBC ETF's audited annual and unaudited interim financial statements.

² Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The total increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding during the period.

³ Distributions were paid in cash, reinvested in additional units of the CIBC ETF, or both.

⁴ This information is presented as at June 30, 2026 and December 31 of the period(s) shown.

⁵ Management expense ratio is based on the total expenses of the CIBC ETF (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs), incurred by or allocated to a series of units for the period shown, expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value of that series during the period.

⁶ The management expense ratio includes the fees attributable to investments in investment funds, where applicable.

The decision to waive management fees is at the discretion of the Manager. The practice of waiving management fees may continue indefinitely or may be terminated at any time without notice to unitholders. management expense ratio before waivers or absorptions includes the fees attributable to investments in investment funds, where applicable.

⁷ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs before income taxes expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. Spreads associated with fixed income securities trading are not ascertainable and, for that reason, are not included in the trading expense ratio calculation. The trading expense ratio includes the fees attributable to investments in investment funds, where applicable.

⁸ The portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the portfolio advisor and/or portfolio sub-advisor manages the portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the CIBC ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the CIBC ETF in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the CIBC ETF.

Management Fees

The CIBC ETF pays CAMI an annual management fee to cover the costs of managing the CIBC ETF. Management fees are based on the CIBC ETF's net asset value and are calculated daily and paid monthly. Management fees are paid to CAMI in consideration for providing, or arranging for the provision of, management, distribution, and portfolio advisory services. Advertising and promotional expenses, and office overhead expenses related to the Manager's activities and the fees of the Portfolio Advisor are paid by CAMI out of the management fees received from the CIBC ETFs. The CIBC ETF is required to pay applicable taxes on the management fees paid to CAMI. Refer to the CIBC ETF's prospectus for the annual management fee rate.

For the period ended June 30, 2026, 100% of the management fees collected from the CIBC ETF was attributable to general administration and investment advice.

Past Performance

Past performance is not presented because, as at June 30, 2026, the CIBC ETF had not yet completed its first full financial year.
