Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

CIBC All-Equity ETF Portfolio's (the CIBC ETF) portfolio advisor is CIBC Asset Management Inc. (CAMI or the Portfolio Advisor). The CIBC ETF invests primarily in other investment funds (the Underlying Funds) which can be found in the Top Positions table of the Summary of Investment Portfolio. The commentary that follows provides a summary of the results of operations for the six-month period ended June 30, 2026. All dollar figures are expressed in thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

The CIBC ETF's net asset value increased by 391% during the period, from $1,283 as at December 31, 2025 to $6,298 as at June 30, 2026. Net sales of $4,527 and positive investment performance resulted in an overall increase in net asset value.

The CIBC ETF under normal market conditions, has a long-term strategic asset mix of U.S. equities (45%), Canadian equities (27.5%), international developed market equities (22.5%) and emerging market equities (5%).

Global equity markets experienced a period of heightened volatility during the period, shaped by geopolitical events, diverging monetary policy and shifting expectations around U.S. interest rates. The conflict in the Middle East pushed oil prices higher, fueling inflation concerns and contributing to a risk-off environment that affected equity markets across Europe, Asia and emerging market regions.

In the U.S., fiscal policy measures supporting consumption and business investment helped sustain solid equity market performance, although uncertainty around the path of U.S. interest rates weighed on sectors more sensitive to interest rates, while lending support to financials sector equities and the U.S. dollar. Markets moved from pricing in meaningful interest-rate reductions by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board to pricing in the possibility of interest-rate increases during the period.

Outside North America, monetary policy divergence was a key theme. The Bank of Japan and the European Central Bank were both expected to tighten policy, creating currency and interest-rate considerations for allocations to developed international financial markets.

Australia became the first major developed economy to raise interest rates in 2026, affecting domestic equity performance. Meanwhile, emerging markets outperformed other equity regions during the second quarter of 2026, led by technology-related gains in Taiwan and South Korea.

CIBC MSCI Emerging Markets Equity Index ETF was the strongest-performing holding, while CIBC MSCI Canada Equity Index ETF was the weakest-performing holding.

Recent Developments

Effective April 27, 2026, Barry Pollock was appointed Chair of the Independent Review Committee (IRC), and Ursula Holmsten was appointed as a member of the IRC, succeeding Marcia Lewis Brown who retired from the Committee.

Geopolitical risks disrupted the global economy and financial markets in unprecedented and unpredictable ways. The tariffs imposed by the U.S., and the subsequent counter-measures implemented by various countries, may continue to negatively impact supply chains, inflation and economic activity. These actions are likely to amplify ongoing U.S., Canada, and Mexico trade issues that existed prior to recent tariff developments, and may have further adverse effects on both the Canadian and global economies, as well as financial markets. These events could exacerbate other preexisting political, social and economic risks and cause substantial market volatility and uncertainty in financial markets. The future actions of governments and their potential effects on global economies, businesses, and financial markets remain uncertain. These factors may adversely affect the CIBC ETF's performance. The Manager continues to monitor ongoing developments and the impact to investment strategies.

Related Party Transactions

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and its affiliates have the following roles and responsibilities with respect to the CIBC ETF, and receive the fees described below in connection with their roles and responsibilities.

Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor of the CIBC ETF

CAMI, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, is the CIBC ETF's Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor. CAMI receives management fees with respect to the CIBC ETF's day-to-day business and operations, calculated based on the net asset value of units of the CIBC ETF as described in Management Fees section. As Trustee, CAMI holds title to the CIBC ETF's property (cash and securities) on behalf of its unitholders. As Portfolio Advisor, CAMI provides, or arranges to provide for, investment advice and portfolio management services to the CIBC ETF. CAMI also compensates dealers in connection with their marketing activities regarding the CIBC ETF. From time to time, CAMI may invest in units of the CIBC ETF.

Designated Broker and Dealer

CAMI has entered into an agreement with CIBC World Markets Inc. (CIBC WM), an affiliate of CAMI, to act as designated broker and dealer for distribution of the CIBC ETF, on terms and conditions that are comparable to arm's length agreements in the exchange traded funds industry.

Brokerage Arrangements and Soft Dollars

The Portfolio Advisor makes decisions, including the selection of markets and dealers and the negotiation of commissions, with respect to the purchase and sale of portfolio securities, certain derivative products and the execution of portfolio transactions. Brokerage business may be allocated by the Portfolio Advisor to CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., each a subsidiary of CIBC. CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp. may also earn spreads on the sale of fixed income and other securities, and certain derivative products to the CIBC ETF. A spread is the difference between the bid and ask prices for a security in the applicable marketplace, with respect to the execution of portfolio transactions. The spread will differ based upon various factors such as the nature and liquidity of the security.

Dealers, including CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., may furnish goods and services, other than order execution, to the Portfolio Advisor when they process trades through them (referred to in the industry as "soft-dollar" arrangements). These goods and services are paid for with a portion of the brokerage commissions and assist the Portfolio Advisor with investment decision-making services for the CIBC ETF or relate directly to the execution of portfolio transactions on behalf of the CIBC ETF. Any soft dollar arrangements shall be in compliance with applicable laws.

During the period, the CIBC ETF paid brokerage commissions and other fees of $129 to CIBC WM; the CIBC ETF did not pay any brokerage commissions or other fees to CIBC World Markets Corp. Spreads associated with fixed income and other securities are not ascertainable and, for that reason, cannot be included when determining these amounts.

CIBC ETF Transactions

The CIBC ETF may enter into one or more of the following transactions (the Related Party Transactions) in reliance on the standing instructions issued by the Independent Review Committee (the IRC):

- to invest in or hold equity securities of CIBC or issuers related to the Portfolio Advisor;

- to invest in or hold non-exchange-traded debt securities of CIBC or an issuer related to CIBC in a primary offering and in the secondary market;
- purchase securities, including debt securities issued by an issuer that is not a reporting issuer in any of the provinces and territories of Canada, for which CIBC World Markets Inc., CIBC World Markets Corp., or any affiliate of CIBC (a "Related Dealer" or the "Related Dealers") acts as an underwriter during the offering of such securities, or at any time during the 60-day period following the completion of the offering of such securities in accordance with certain conditions;
- to purchase equity and debt securities from, or sell them to, a Related Dealer, where it is acting as principal;
- undertake currency and currency derivative transactions where a Related Dealer is the counterparty;
- to purchase securities from, or sell securities to, another investment fund or a managed account managed by the Manager or an affiliate (the inter-fund trades or cross-trades), subject to certain conditions; and
- to engage in in-specie transfers by receiving portfolio securities from, or delivering portfolio securities to, a managed account or another investment fund managed by the Manager or an affiliate in respect of a purchase or redemption of Units of the CIBC ETF, subject to certain conditions.

At least annually, the IRC reviews the Related Party Transactions for which they have issued standing instructions. The IRC is required to advise the Canadian securities regulatory authorities, after a matter has been referred or reported to the IRC by the Manager, if it determines that an investment decision was not made in accordance with a condition imposed by securities legislation or the IRC in any Related Party Transactions requiring its approval.

Custodian

CIBC Mellon Trust Company is the custodian of the CIBC ETF (the Custodian). The Custodian holds cash, securities, and other assets of the CIBC ETF and ensures that those assets are kept separate from any other cash, securities, or other assets that the custodian might be holding. The Custodian also provides other services to the CIBC ETF including record-keeping and processing of foreign exchange transactions. The fees and spreads for the services of the Custodian are paid by the Manager. CIBC owns a 50% interest in the Custodian.

Service Provider

The Custodian also provides certain services to the CIBC ETF, including securities lending, fund accounting and reporting, and portfolio valuation. Such servicing fees are paid by the Manager. Where applicable, securities lending fees are applied against the revenue received by the CIBC ETF.

Financial Highlights

The following tables show selected key financial information about the CIBC ETF and are intended to help you understand the CIBC ETF's financial performance for the period ended June 30, 2026 and December 31 of any other period(s) shown.

^a Information presented is for the period from the inception date to December 31.

^b Initial offering price.

* Ratio has been annualized.

¹ This information is derived from the CIBC ETF's audited annual and unaudited interim financial statements.

² Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The total increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding during the period.

³ Distributions were paid in cash, reinvested in additional units of the CIBC ETF, or both.

⁴ This information is presented as at June 30, 2026 and December 31 of the period(s) shown.

⁶ The management expense ratio includes the fees attributable to investments in investment funds, where applicable.

⁷ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs before income taxes expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period. Spreads associated with fixed income securities trading are not ascertainable and, for that reason, are not included in the trading expense ratio calculation. The trading expense ratio includes the fees attributable to investments in investment funds, where applicable.

⁸ The portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the portfolio advisor and/or portfolio sub-advisor manages the portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the CIBC ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the CIBC ETF in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the CIBC ETF.

Management Fees

The CIBC ETF pays CAMI an annual management fee to cover the costs of managing the CIBC ETF. Management fees are based on the CIBC ETF's net asset value and are calculated daily and paid monthly. Management fees are paid to CAMI in consideration for providing, or arranging for the provision of, management, distribution, and portfolio advisory services. Advertising and promotional expenses, and office overhead expenses related to the Manager's activities and the fees of the Portfolio Advisor are paid by CAMI out of the management fees received from the CIBC ETFs. The CIBC ETF is required to pay applicable taxes on the management fees paid to CAMI. Refer to the CIBC ETF's prospectus for the annual management fee rate.

For the period ended June 30, 2026, 100% of the management fees collected from the CIBC ETF was attributable to general administration and investment advice.

Past Performance

Past performance is not presented because, as at June 30, 2026, the CIBC ETF had not yet completed its first full financial year.
