Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

Investment Objective: Conservative Income Portfolio (referred to as the Portfolio) seeks to provide a mix of income and some capital appreciation potential by investing primarily in units of Canadian and global mutual funds.

Investment Strategies: The Portfolio invests primarily in units of mutual funds managed by the Manager or its affiliates. The Portfolio has, under normal market conditions, a long-term strategic asset mix of fixed income (60%-90%) and equities (10%-40%). The portfolio advisor may review and adjust the asset mix, in its sole discretion, depending on economic conditions and relative value of income and equity securities.

Risk

The Portfolio is a Canadian fixed income balanced portfolio that is suitable for short to medium term investors who can tolerate low investment risk.

For the period ended December 31, 2021, the Portfolio's overall level of risk remained as discussed in the simplified prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Portfolio's portfolio advisor is CIBC Asset Management Inc. (referred to as CAMI or the Portfolio Advisor). The commentary that follows provides a summary of the results of operations for the period ended December 31, 2021. All dollar figures are expressed in thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

The Portfolio's net asset value decreased by 2% during the period, from $387,748 as at December 31, 2020 to $379,889 as at December 31, 2021. Net redemptions of $20,451 were partially offset by positive investment performance, resulting in an overall decrease in net asset value.

Class T3 units of the Portfolio posted a return of 4.1% for the period. The Portfolio's primary benchmark, the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index (the primary benchmark), returned -2.5% for the same period. The Portfolio's blended benchmark, as described in the Annual Compound Returns section under Past Performance, returned 3.5% for the same period. The blended benchmark closely reflects the asset classes the Portfolio invests in, and provides a more useful comparative to the Portfolio's performance. The Portfolio's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, unlike the primary and blended benchmarks' returns. See the section Past Performance for the returns of other classes of units offered by the Portfolio.

The Portfolio has target allocations of 58% Canadian fixed income securities, 13% Canadian equities, 12% global equities, 12% high yield fixed income securities and 5% global fixed income securities.

The distribution of COVID-19 vaccines during the year enabled global markets to reopen and supported above-trend growth and inflation, which in turn led to rising interest rates. In the second half of 2021, the COVID-19 Omicron variant raised fears that a full economic reopening could be delayed.

Inflation rose in response to robust consumer demand, coupled with significant shortages of aluminum, resin, lumber, semiconductors and other supplies. COVID-19 shutdowns throughout Asia, notably in China, contributed to inventory shortages and transportation bottlenecks.

Although major central banks expressed heightened concerns that inflation was proving to be more persistent than previously expected, monetary policy remained highly supportive across most economies.

Over the period the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (referred to as the Fed) held the target range for the federal funds rate steady at 0.00%–0.25%. The Fed began to reduce its bond purchases and announced plans to end its quantitative-easing program sometime in the first half of 2022. The Fed also suggested that three increases to the federal funds rate may be needed in 2022 in response to surging inflationary pressures and an improving labour market.

The Bank of Canada (referred to as the BoC) also held its benchmark overnight interest rate steady at 0.25%. The BoC believed this low policy rate was needed to help support the Canadian economy through its recovery from the pandemic. As economic conditions improved, the BoC gradually reduced its bond purchases, and the bond-purchase program ended in the fourth quarter.

Late in the period, the Canadian inflation rate reached its highest year-over-year level since 2003, driven by rising prices for gasoline, food and automobiles. In response to rising inflation and economic growth, the BoC suggested an increase to its benchmark overnight interest rate may be warranted in the second or third quarter of 2022.

The European Central Bank reiterated the need for accommodative policy even in the face of higher inflation, but announced it would end its bond-buying program in March 2022. In contrast, in December the Bank of England raised its main interest rate—the first increase since the onset of the pandemic—to combat inflation. A handful of other central banks also increased their interest rates at the end of the period, including Norway, New Zealand, Poland, Brazil, Russia, Mexico and South Africa. In addition, the People's Bank of China began the process of unwinding some of its pandemic-driven stimulus.

In response to indications of tighter monetary policy from central banks, short-term bond yields rose sharply, flattening yield curves (i.e., the difference narrowed between short-term and long-term yields). However, some analysts expressed concern that investors were responding to a potential policy error by the central banks of raising interest rates too soon and too fast. This led long-term yields to decline in the fourth quarter.

Consistent with the strong economic environment, equity markets and commodities performed well over the period. Commodity prices were generally high as demand reaccelerated while supply remained constrained. Crude oil prices rose as production that had been suspended amid the pandemic resumed. Gold prices declined slightly, despite higher inflation expectations, as central banks considered raising interest rates.

Global equity markets were supported by a 50% growth in corporate earnings, which resulted from higher sales and significantly expanded profit margins. Both growth and value stocks performed extremely well during the first half of the year, but value dominated in the second half as investors began to anticipate rising interest rates. Despite periods of pandemic-related volatility, U.S. equities moved higher in December to close out a strong year. Canadian equity investors continued to position themselves for a recovery, and Canadian equity markets ended the year at record highs.

Renaissance Multi-Sector Fixed Income Private Pool was the most significant contributor to the Portfolio's performance, followed by Imperial Canadian Dividend Income Pool and Renaissance Real Assets Private Pool.

Imperial Global Equity Income Pool was the most significant detractor from the Portfolio's performance, followed by Imperial International Bond Pool and Imperial Short-Term Bond Pool.

Recent Developments

Effective July 1, 2022, the Manager will assume responsibility from the Portfolio for paying for certain expenses, which relate to the operation and conduct of the Portfolio's business, that are currently categorized as operating expenses.

Subsequent to December 31, 2021, the escalating conflict between Ukraine and the Russian Federation has resulted in significant volatility and uncertainty in financial markets. It is unclear what further actions may be taken by governments and the resulting impact on global economies, businesses, financial markets, and the Pool's performance. While the situation remains fluid, the Portfolio continues to monitor ongoing developments and the impact to investment strategies.

The COVID-19 pandemic and the restrictions imposed by governments around the world to limit its spread have disrupted the global economy and financial markets in unprecedented and unpredictable ways. The COVID-19 outbreak may adversely affect the performance of the Portfolio.

Related Party Transactions

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (referred to as CIBC) and its affiliates have the following roles and responsibilities with respect to the Portfolio, and receive the fees described below in connection with their roles and responsibilities.

Manager

CIBC is the Portfolio's manager (referred to as the Manager). CIBC receives management fees with respect to the Portfolio's day-to-day business and operations, calculated based on the Portfolio's net asset value as described in the section entitled Management Fees.

Trustee

CIBC Trust Corporation (referred to as CIBC Trust), a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, is the Portfolio's trustee (referred to as the Trustee). The Trustee holds title to the Portfolio's property (cash and securities) on behalf of its unitholders.

Portfolio Advisor

The portfolio advisor provides, or arranges to provide, investment advice and portfolio management services to the Portfolio. CAMI, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, is the Portfolio's portfolio advisor.

Discretionary Managers

As at the date of this report, units of the Portfolio are offered through discretionary investment management services provided by certain subsidiaries of CIBC (collectively, referred to as the Discretionary Managers). The Discretionary Managers may include CIBC Trust and CAMI. The Discretionary Managers arrange to purchase, convert, switch and redeem units of the Portfolio on behalf of their clients who have entered into discretionary investment management agreements with one of the Discretionary Managers. The Discretionary Managers are the registered unitholders of the Portfolios for the purposes of receiving all unitholder materials and having the right to vote all proxies with respect to units of the Portfolio. Units of the Portfolio are also offered to investors in connection with certain products offered by affiliated dealers pursuant to the terms of the account agreements governing such products. There are no compensation arrangements with these dealers in respect of the sale of units of the Portfolio. However, CIBC Trust receives fees from its clients for offering discretionary management services and, from these fees, CIBC Trust may pay affiliated dealers and other CIBC members for services provided in connection with the client's discretionary investment managed account, which may hold units of the Portfolio.

CIBC receives fees from CIBC Trust for the services of CIBC advisors that assist investors with opening discretionary investment management accounts where CIBC Trust acts as the Discretionary Manager and for acting as the investors' ongoing relationship manager. CIBC is responsible for the remuneration of the CIBC advisors and may pay the CIBC advisors out of such fees. Further details of the arrangement between CIBC and CIBC Trust may be found in the discretionary investment management agreement between CIBC Trust and investors. CAMI receives fees from their clients for offering discretionary investment managed accounts, which may hold units of the Portfolio, and may pay a portion of such fees to their investment counsellors.

Brokerage Arrangements and Soft Dollars

The Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisors make decisions, including the selection of markets and dealers and the negotiation of commissions, with respect to the purchase and sale of portfolio securities, certain derivative products and the execution of portfolio transactions. Brokerage business may be allocated by the Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisors to CIBC World Markets Inc. (referred to as CIBC WM) and CIBC World Markets Corp., each a subsidiary of CIBC. CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp. may also earn spreads on the sale of fixed income and other securities and certain derivative products to the Portfolio. A spread is the difference between the bid and ask prices for a security in the applicable marketplace, with respect to the execution of portfolio transactions. The spread will differ based upon various factors such as the nature and liquidity of the security.

Dealers, including CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., may furnish goods and services, other than order execution, to the Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisors in partial exchange for processing trades through them (referred to in the industry as "soft dollar" arrangements). These goods and services are paid for with a portion of the brokerage commissions and assist the Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisors with investment decision-making services for the Portfolio or relate directly to the execution of portfolio transactions on behalf of the Portfolio. As per the terms of the portfolio sub-advisory agreement, such soft dollar arrangements are in compliance with applicable laws.

In addition, the Manager may enter into commission recapture arrangements with certain dealers with respect to the Portfolio. Any commission recaptured will be paid to the Portfolio.

During the period, the Portfolio paid brokerage commissions and other fees of $234 to CIBC WM; the Pool did not pay any brokerage commissions or other fees to CIBC World Markets Corp. Spreads associated with fixed income and other securities are not ascertainable and, for that reason, cannot be included when determining these amounts.

Portfolio Transactions

The Portfolio may enter into one or more of the following transactions (referred to as the Related Party Transactions) in reliance on the standing instructions issued by the IRC:

- invest in or hold equity securities of CIBC or issuers related to a portfolio sub-advisor;

- invest in or hold non-exchange-traded debt securities of CIBC or an issuer related to CIBC, with terms-to-maturity of 365 days or more, issued in a primary offering and in the secondary market;
- invest in or hold debt securities of CIBC or issuers related to a portfolio sub-advisor purchased in the secondary market;
- make an investment in the securities of an issuer for which CIBC WM, CIBC World Markets Corp., or any affiliate of CIBC (referred to as a Related Dealer or the Related Dealers) acts as an underwriter during the offering of the securities or at any time during the 60-day period following the completion of the offering of the securities (in the case of a "private placement" offering, in accordance with the exemptive relief order granted by the Canadian securities regulatory authorities and in accordance with the policies and procedures relating to such investment);
- purchase equity or debt securities from or sell them to a Related Dealer, where it is acting as principal;
- undertake currency and currency derivative transactions where a Related Dealer is the counterparty;
- purchase securities from or sell securities to another investment fund or a managed account managed by the Manager or an affiliate; and
- engage in in-specie transfers by receiving portfolio securities from, or delivering portfolio securities to, a managed account or another investment fund managed by the Manager or an affiliate, in respect of a purchase or redemption of units in the fund, subject to certain conditions.

At least annually, the IRC reviews the Related Party Transactions for which they have issued standing instructions. The IRC is required to advise the Canadian securities regulatory authorities, after a matter has been referred or reported to the IRC by the Manager, if it determines that an investment decision was not made in accordance with a condition imposed by securities legislation or the IRC in any Related Party Transactions requiring its approval.

Custodian

CIBC Mellon Trust Company is the Portfolio's custodian (referred to as the Custodian). The Custodian holds all cash and securities for the Portfolio and ensures that those assets are kept separate from any other cash or securities that the Custodian might be holding. The Custodian also provides other services to the Portfolio including record-keeping and processing of foreign exchange transactions. The Custodian may hire sub-custodians for the Portfolio. The fees and spreads for services of the Custodian directly related to the execution of portfolio transactions initiated by CAMI as the Portfolio Advisor are paid by CAMI and/or dealer(s) directed by CAMI, up to the amount of the credits generated under soft dollar arrangements from trading by CAMI on behalf of the Portfolio during that month. All other fees and spreads for the services of the Custodian are paid by the Manager and charged to the Portfolio on a recoverable basis. CIBC owns a 50% interest in the Custodian.

Service Provider

CIBC Mellon Global Securities Services Company (referred to as CIBC GSS) provides certain services to the Portfolio, including securities lending, fund accounting and reporting, and portfolio valuation. Such servicing fees are paid by the Manager and charged to the Portfolio on a recoverable basis. CIBC indirectly owns a 50% interest in CIBC GSS.

The management expense ratio includes the fees attributable to exchange traded funds.

Management Fees

The Portfolio, either directly or indirectly, pays CIBC an annual management fee to cover the costs of managing the Portfolio. Management fees are based on the Portfolio's net asset value and are calculated daily and paid monthly. Management fees are paid to CIBC in consideration for providing, or arranging for the provision of, management, distribution, and portfolio advisory services. Advertising and promotional expenses, office overhead expenses and trailing commissions are paid by CIBC out of the management fees received from the Portfolio. For the period ended December 31, 2021, 100% of the management fees collected from the Portfolio was attributable to general administration and investment advice.

Forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature, that depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or that include words such as “expects”, “anticipates”, “intends”, “plans”, “believes”, “estimates”, or other similar wording. In addition, any statements that may be made concerning future performance, strategies, or prospects and possible future actions taken by the fund, are also forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors that may cause the actual results and achievements of the fund to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to: general economic, market, and business conditions; fluctuations in securities prices, interest rates, and foreign currency exchange rates; changes in government regulations; and catastrophic events.

The above list of important factors that may affect future results is not exhaustive. Before making any investment decisions, we encourage you to consider these and other factors carefully. CIBC does not undertake, and specifically disclaims, any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments, or otherwise prior to the release of the next management report of fund performance.
